MENLO PARK NEWS NOTES

MENLO PARK—The engagement of a local young man and a society belle of San Francisco will be announced next week. The young couple will reside in the city.

Jack Welsh, son of Mr. and Mrs. John B. Welsh, left yesterday for Oakland to become a cadet in the navy aviation corps. After a month's training, he will be sent to Florida or Texas for active service. Young Welsh has signed up for four years.

Wednesday morning 18 selectees for Uncle Sam's army departed for camp. A large crowd of relatives and friends were at the depot to bid the boys goodbye.

Harry Morey has chartered one of the Greyhound buses for the Santa Clara game at Berkeley Saturday. Thirty-five fans have already secured tickets. Many more will be crowded into the vehicle. There will be many Santa Clara University boosters in the crowd.

The Friday night card parties in the Hall of the Nativity under the auspices of the Catholic Ladies of the Ravenswood district are very popular affairs. More than 20 tables were occupied last Friday night.

The duck season opens next Thursday, Oct. 16, under favorable auspices. Many northern birds are arriving, mostly widgeon, so that good shooting is expected on the opening day. Edward O'Keefe will make his annual trip to the Willow Creek Gun Club's preserves in Colusa County. The 20,000 acres comprising the club's area has been taken over by the government for a game refuge and this is the last season for hunting there.

It was rumored this week that three parcels of property aggregating six acres were sold in the Flood subdivision to San Francisco buyers who will erect substantial homes immediately.

James Clarkson of Los Angeles was here Wednesday negotiating for local business property. It is believed Mr. Clarkson represents a theater syndicate.

The square at the Southern Pacific Railroad Co's depot has been macadamized. The improvement was much needed

'Cabin in the Sky' Dancers To Return

Katherine Dunham and her Dancers, recent sensational hit of "Cabin in the Sky," return for one performance only on Sunday afternoon, Oct. 12, when they will appear in a concert of Haitian voodoo dances, primitive Cuban rumbas and other exotic Caribbean numbers at the Curran Theater. It will be the first presentation of this program in San Francisco. There are twenty dancers in the group. Tickets are now on sale at the Curran box office.

Gauch Vanderhanz, British Guianan drum virtuoso, and Ivan Lopez, from Trinidad, provide percussion accompaniment.

This recital will be staged exactly as given for 12 Sunday nights last season at the Windsor Theater, New York.

Rosenwald and Rockefeller Foundation fellowships enabled Miss Dunham to make a year's research of music and dances in the West Indies.

Reservations for the Curran performance may be made by phoning ORdway 4400.

CUTTING KITCHEN COST is important these days. Food and its preparation are making every housewife budget conscious. That is why women this month are investigating how a modern Gas Range can bring four savings into the kitchen:

In the modern gas range, the burners save fuel at every cooking speed. These new burners keep the gas flame on the bottom of the pan—there's no waste heat spilling around the sides. The simmer adjustment on the burners makes possible waterless cooking that saves healthful vitamins to retain the garden-fresh flavor of vegetables. Giant top burners, speed ovens and broilers plus automatic lighting save kitchen time at every meal hour. The insulated oven of the new gas range permits the low-temperature cooking that reduces meat shrinkage and tenderizes the less expensive cuts of meat.

Buy a modern Gas Range now and save. Save while prices are still low. Save on every meal every day.

Retail Merchandising Course Now Given

Properly trained salespeople for San Mateo County merchants are being provided through a special course in retail selling now being given at San Mateo Junior College.

The course includes a co-operative program that is being carried out by the school and merchants of the county giving students the opportunity to work in the stores and use their school training under actual working which depicts college students conditions.

In charge of the program at the school is Martha E. Burrill, teacher-co-ordinator. Her students attend classes at the junior college for a half day and spend the remainder of the day clerking in stores where they learn retail merchandising.

Engineering Safety Class Is Planned

STANFORD UNIVERSITY—Industrial accidents, time wasters which in war or national emergency are as serious as strikes or the loss of battles at the front, will be attacked through a special defense class in industrial safety engineering announced today by Stanford University.

The paint industry is developing camouflage and other war paints, the Department of Commerce reported.

Intended for key men and supervisors in defense industries of the Bay Area, the course will be conducted at the San Mateo Junior College from 7:15 to 9:45 p. m. each Monday, beginning Oct. 27, and continuing for 12 weeks. The instructor will be R. E. Donovan, chief safety engineer of the Standard Oil Co., and a recognized leader in this field.

If the demand for the course requires it, other sections will be arranged, to be given at Stanford, San Mateo or South San Francisco, as the demand indicates, it was announced. It is expected that the first course in the fundamentals of safety engineering will be followed by advanced courses.

Advance application for admission is required and may be made by writing Prof. Eugene L. Grant, School of Engineering, Stanford University. The purchase of a textbook is the only expense to the student.

Conducting the Redwood City Tribune's Better Home and Garden Institute Study.

It is with pleasure the Tribune presents to local home and garden lovers the advice and help of Mrs. Watkins. Many homemakers who have been puzzled over just what is right for a certain type of garden color scheme, a type of wall paper or drapery plan for a sunny or dark interior will not have to worry their way through this problem. Mrs. Watkins will correspond with those interested in her service which of course is paid for by the members of the institute whose aim is better living and better comfort in home and garden arrangements.

Heirlooms

China, Glassware of Today Are Tomorrow's Treasures

Ever thought about the fact that your new china and glass are tomorrow's heirlooms?

That's why you will meditate a long time over the selection of your dinerware, if you're a far-sighted modern young homemaker. In the first place, no matter whether you're buying the finest china or a modest semi-vitreous ware, make sure it's an open-stock pattern. Open stock means that you can buy additional pieces or replacements any time—years afterward.

Buying open stock patterns is an easy matter today with so much lovely American china, dinnerware, ad glassware available. But with the import situation as it is now, it's practically impossible to count on additional pieces of imported ware.

BUILDING AN HEIRLOOM

If you're building an heirloom set of dinnerware, naturally you will want the finest you can get. Perhaps it is a question of getting a few of the finest or a whole set of less expensive dinnerware.

You may want to start right out with lovely, thin china—true china that's so translucent you can see the outline of your hand when you hold a dinner plate up to the light—that has the traditional "ring" of china when tapped. If funds are limited, confine yourself to essentials at first . . . add pieces for your anniversary gifts, even little celebrations and trips! Your dealer will work with you to select the essential pieces, just as your jeweler advises you on place settings of silver.

If you're buying today's china for tomorrow's heirloom, you're likely to want a more conventional pattern than when you plan to buy several less expensive sets. You will want to choose for the pattern one that is basic and simple enough to be harmonious with your decorative scheme through the years. In selecting your china, the basis of choosing the pattern is harmony with your dining room as a whole, not perfect matching of details in your silver, your furniture, or decorative motifs in your wallpaper.

HARDER THAN STEEL

Of course, the perfect heirloom is one that has been well cared for through the years—treasured. American dinnerware today is not only exceptionally beautiful and well designed, it is a triumph of durability as well. A glaze that is harder than steel is guaranteed in all quality ware not to craze or crackle. The body is not likely to chip or shatter with ordinary good care.

For beauty's sake, most home dinnerware is decorated over the glaze. So don't use steel wool and harsh abrasives on your china, especially on gold decoration. Today there's a wonderfully easy way to bring out all the beauty of both your china and glass and to keep it free of soap and soil film—no dishpan ring, either! Add a bit of the new beauty bath water softener to your hot water, then whip up a grand live suds with your favorite soap. Mild soap is all you need for the hardest water after it's softened this way. For best care of both dishes and hands, use moderately hot water—not above 120° F.

Old Fashioned Rose Carpet Patterns

Old-fashioned rose patterns for floors have revived with a vigor that makes them quite the news in carpets and rugs. For traditional settings, the charm of these patterns is unquestioned. Shown above is a typical design which so satisfactorily permits the building of room settings of distinction.

For Dining Room

Plain, but rich and beautiful is this walnut corner cupboard, an attractive example of the simple, inexpensive furniture available today in fine woods. Treasured china can be placed on the shelves for decorative purposes and enclosed section below affords additional storage space.

ATTACHMENTS HELPFUL

Many of the present day vacuum cleaners have attachments that make light work of dusting books, mattresses, furniture and lamps.

Upholstery Fabrics Win Distinction

American designers of home furnishings aren't to be caught napping. While Europe is busily engaged in the turmoil of war, textiles here have gone out on their own and the result is a pleasing combination of durability and beauty.

As a visit to a furniture or department store will reveal, upholstery fabrics aren't "the same old thing." They are decidedly different, as illustrated, for example, by the ones whose softly woven loops of blended wool and rayon give a crocheted appearance. There are trim cut diamond designs, elliptical designs, a stripe set against a terry weave background, and even a sea shell figure, to name a few.

Another striped design is shown with a scattering of nubby cotton yarns. Friezes, luxurious mohairs, velvets, and doeskins all have taken a perky interest in life, and have succeeded in appealing to the family's budget as well as its taste for variety in upholstery fabrics. Colors include many favorites, among them Alice blue, turquoise, dusty rose, beige, plum, cocoa, coral and sea green.

San Francisco handles 80 per cent of United States wine exports.

U. S. Reproductions Of Orientals Is High

American-loomed reproductions of rare old Oriental rugs hold a place in public affection which never will be supplanted. Their rich color and pattern have a gracious charm which brings dignity, unity and beauty to rooms of the traditional periods when the Oriental was so universally employed. In those delightfully livable rooms in which period furnishings are mingled, the rich ground colorings and jewel-like color accents of Oriental reproductions are equally effective.

Barrow, Alaska, is the northernmost town on the American continent.

Floor Hints

Right Carpets Add to Room

Small bedrooms seem to expand under the influence of the correct floor covering. A wall-to-wall carpet appears to push back the walls and add feet to the area of the room. If the room is sunny, let the carpet be dark and cool in shade. But if the room is on the north, or so located that sun rarely finds it, let it be carpeted in sunny colors.

Warm carpet colors lie in the red and orange ranges, such as the roses, the warm woodstones, rusts, golds and tans. The cooler tones include soft blues and greens.

Naturally, the same rule applies if a floor-sized rug is used. The edges of the rug should extend to within not more than 12, and preferably 6 inches of the wall. The larger the margin of bare floor between wall and rug, the smaller the room will seem. In a room, for instance, less than 11 by 14 feet, the margin of bare floor should not exceed six inches, authorities say.

Furniture Trends Strong in Tradition

Although modern now ranks as the favorite furniture style for every room in the house, lovers of traditional furniture will not be forced to "go modern" against their will, for lack of other choices, a preview of the new displays indicates. Rooms furnished in the modern manner are spotlighted in most stores, because of their news interest, but 18th Century English furniture and Early American maple rooms, in particular, are much in evidence. Regency and Federal American are other styles on the ascendency this season.

Science Goes To Work On Improving the Nursery

Kiddies are getting a lot more attention nowadays than in grandmother's time, with scientific feeding, specialized training, educational toys, and what not . . . and while they are still naughty on occasion, they certainly are healthier, better trained and more progressive.

In the furnishings that go into their bedrooms, this scientific trend also is definitely apparent. One type of crib now on the market is equipped with a gauge that tells the temperature and humidity of the nursery. Its face is covered with an unbreakable smooth plastic material, strong enough to defy marring.

The same transparent plastic is used on the bowed foot end of the crib, permitting mother to peek at the baby without fear of awakening him. For appearance, and for convenience, too, the same material has been applied to the door of the matching chifforobe, to enable mother to see the neat piles of baby clothes.

SUGGESTIONS ARE ADOPTED

Mothers themselves have offered suggestions for changes that now have taken form on many cribs. A new adjustable spring, for instance, eliminates all hardware above the mattress level, and eliminates the possibility of an untimely collapse or injury to the baby's fingers. The spring is easily operated, even when the bedding and child are in the crib. To further lighten the mother's work, washable stained and natural finishes are used on these particular cribs.

Another type of adjustable spring now on the market can be changed as the child grows older or heavier or commences to jump in bed. The adjustment allows the spring to be drawn tighter, removing any sag. Bleached blonde maple is the finish.

Many springs can be adjusted to as many as six different levels, including dressing table level, both higher and lower feeding positions, bed level, a position most comfortable when the child is ill, and regular crib level.

SCREENS PROVIDED, TOO

The two-way swinging screen that is included with many juvenile suites helps to keep drafts from blowing directly on the child.

All finishes now are non-poisonous, so if the youngster's mouth should come in contact with the wood, there is no need to fear the effects.

Aside from being better constructed and more attractive in finish and style, present day juvenile suites are designed to promote health and appreciation for finer things in the child, and to provide greater convenience for the mother.

Ease of Cleaning Is Leather's Virtue

This fall's leather lounge chairs are still as luxurious and comfortable as their predecessors, although they have been scaled to fit into today's smaller homes and apartments. Even the ladies, who once thought leather too masculine and better suited to offices, now welcome it in their homes, for they appreciate the service it gives and approve the many colors that are now available, from deep rich reds to delicate pastel shades and creams.

Those who are practical are careful to provide the minimum care that truly fine leather requires to keep its finish smooth and dirt-free. The good housekeeper sponges it off occasionally with warm soap suds, rinses it quickly with a soft cloth wrung from clear water, and then polishes it for a few minutes with a soft dry cloth. Only a few minutes of care occasionally will prevent the family's favorite chair from losing its prestige in the living room.

SIMPLICITY IN BEDROOMS

Modern bedroom suites are becoming even more simple this year. Some are shown with absolutely no decoration except the grain of the wood and a thin ridge running along the bottom of each drawer.

A Popular Dining Room

So clear and shining is the surface of this table that it reflects the bowl of fruit and the picture nearby. And what a blessing are those rollers under the legs when cleaning day comes around, and the table easily can be moved to avoid marring with the vacuum. "Company" dishes can be viewed through the glass doors of the china, where they are safe from everyday contact.

Health News

Calcium's Contribution Is Cheerful Disposition

The "happy, cheerful, optimistic" Redwood City-zen is the one with high calcium content in his blood serum, according to Hopler's Health Food store here.

Hopler's can recite statistics taken from experiments made on young men at an Eastern university that indicate a deficiency in calcium brought on "moodiness, depression and pessimism."

Without calcium our bones become pliable and bend as every school child learns, but what they are not told is that without calcium nerves become irritated, ragged, muscular activity slows down to practically nothing. Every tissue of the human system must have its daily quota of calcium for normal health functioning.

Too much bread, corn or oatmeal in the diet decreases absorption of calcium and phosphorus—two heaping teaspoon-

Buffet Supper Popular; Menu Is Suggested

The buffet supper has become a national institution for easy and graceful entertaining. It may vary in spirit and style from shining crystal and lace to bright pottery and colorful flowered linens. But the theory remains the same—one or two tasty and filling dishes, attractive garnishes, a choice of beverages, and a casual intermingling of the guests assures a gay and informal good time. The important thing is to have lots of a simple main dish, or two, and a substantial dessert, rather than a variety of courses, and this means that the buffet supper is economical, too.

The following menu is easy to prepare, colorful to look at and very appetizing for a bright fall evening:

Stuffed Pepper Salad*
Radish Flowers Celery Curls
Spaghetti and Meat Balls
Hot Rolls Jelly
Washington Peach Pie*
Coffee Milk Tea

*Recipes for the Stuffed Pepper Salad and the Washington Peach Pie are to be found on the inside of the labels on Stokely canned Salad Vegetables and Freestone Peaches, respectively. Stokely Bros. & Co. are offering a special recipe service to the busy housewife—every Stokely label carrying a variety of interesting recipes on the inside, as well as complete information as to servings, contents, etc., on the front.

Local Dealer Tells Of New Oldsmobiles

J. Frank Cuddy of the Cuddy Motor Co., local Oldsmobile dealer, and members of his sales staff, have returned following a preview of the new Oldsmobile B-44. Factory executives from Lansing, Mich., assisted by zone office officials, conducted the meeting held in Oakland. Details of Oldsmobile's sales and advertising plans, as well as company policies for the coming model year, were outlined.

"Motorists are promised the biggest surprise in the history of the automobile business when they view the new Oldsmobile B-44," Cuddy asserted. "Regardless of any existing opinions pertaining to inferior quality in the 1942 automobiles, Oldsmobile introduces three lines of cars that are definitely better looking, better lasting and better built than any cars in the 44-year history of the company."

Cuddy stated that advancements such as new double duty bumpers, heavier frame, more fire power in the engines, and larger braking areas, place more emphasis than ever on ruggedness and dependability.

Hydra-Matic drive, the revolutionary feature introduced by Oldsmobile two years ago, which eliminates the clutch pedal and all shifting of gears, will be offered as optional equipment. Factory officials estimate that due to the ease with which Hydra-Matic drive is operated and the contribution it makes to safer motoring, the percentage of Oldsmobiles equipped with this feaure will be substantially increased during 1942. More than 130,000 Oldsmobiles with Hydra-Matic drive are now in daily service, it was announced.

Steel armor for protection of soldiers against bullets was used in the 17th century but finally was abandoned because the weight added for protection against improved bullets made it impractical.

YOU WOULDN'T BUY CHOPS BY THE BUNCH!!!

Now Take Fruits & Vegetables
No two heads of lettuce are exactly alike—No two carrots—No two watermelons—One orange always differs from its mate—And so does every single thing Nature grows.

So The Question Is—
Why aren't all fruits and vegetables priced by the pound—rather than by the piece, the bunch or dozen. Your Safeway has prepared an interesting booklet entitled "You—the Family Purchasing Agent" that will explain why all fresh Produce should be sold by weight. Ask for your FREE copy today.
